AN ACT

2-283

IN THE COUNCIL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

OCTOBER 18, 1978

To establish the Goals and Policies of the District of Columbia as the First District Element of the Comprehensive Plan for the National Capital.

TITLE I

ENACTING CLAUSE, SHORT TITLE,
FINDINGS, PURPOSES, GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES

BE IT ENACTED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
That this act may be cited as the "District of Columbia Comprehensive Plan Goals and Policies Act of 1978".

Sec. 101. The Government of the District of Columbia makes these findings:

(a) The overall quality of life in the District of Columbia is good and improving; there is a need to maintain and strengthen those aspects of the District's quality of life that are good and to modify and improve those aspects that detract from this quality.

(b) Accurate perceptions of the District, among city residents, persons in the metropolitan region, to the nation at large and in the international community should be based on the city's actual quality of life.

Enrolled Original

(c) The quality of life, and more accurate perceptions of this quality, can be enhanced by establishing goals and working within a framework of policies for human relationships, environmental quality, social well-being, economic vitality, sound, affordable housing, effective land use and transportation systems and good regional relationships.

(d) The setting of objectives and carrying out of programs to fulfill these goals and policies must be consistent with the fiscal condition and general revenue resources of the District of Columbia.

Sec. 102. The Goals and Policies of the District of Columbia are established for the following purposes:

(a) The Goals and Policies are the First District Element of the Comprehensive Plan for the National Capital enacted by the Council of the District of Columbia in accordance with Public Law 93-198.

(b) The Goals are general aims toward which the city should direct its efforts, and the policies for each Goal are the general plans of action to work toward the Goal.

(c) Together the Goals and Policies provide a framework for decisions for all entities of the District government and a guide and context for both existing and future objectives, programs and activities of the city.

-3-

(d) The Goals and Policies are subject to amendment from time to time as required to keep them consistent with the city's changing aims.

Sec. 103. The General Responsibilities for Policies shall be as follows:

(a) Those Policies which begin with the words "to provide" are primarily the responsibility of the District government.

(b) Those Policies which begin with the words "to promote" are the joint responsibility of the District government and other parties.

(c) Those Policies which begin with the words "to encourage" are primarily the responsibility of parties other than the District government.
